

The AngelFire Reserve

The purchase of a reserve parachute is one of the most important buying decisions you will make in your skydiving career. For over thirty years Parachute Labs has been advancing parachute design. We've been the top consultants to the rest of the parachute industry.

Now we are proud to expand upon the AngelFire Reserve series. You can count on the same steady reliability in your reserve canopy as you get with the incomparable Racer Container System! With its slightly longer chord and wider cells (wider is better!), the AngelFire offers the most forgiving landings of any sport reserve.

Parachute Labs has successfully designed and built specialty canopies for Tandem, Base, Accuracy, Swoop and Student use. We've put all of our knowledge and experience into making the AngelFire a robust reserve that opens quickly and on heading. Most importantly the AngelFire has extensive toggling range for maximum glide, and "sink-ability" for landings in less than ideal locales.
